

STRAWBERRIES
KING ORANGES
STRING BEANS
Hothouse TOMATOES
CAULIFLOWER
EGG PLANT
MUSHROOMS
NEW CARROTS
NEW BEETS
NEW POTATOES

SOMERS

DR. SHAHAN, Specialist on diseases of the Blood and Stomach.
 Culture therapy for Rheumatism, Neu-ritis, Tuberculosis, Anemia, Skin and Kidney troubles. Convention on the prescription treatment for the Stomach.
 Easy prevention of Typhoid. Hours:
 10-11 A. M., 2-4 and 6-8 P. M. Phone
 521. No outside calls made after 7
 P. M.

Trommer's
Evergreen Beer
 REAL GERMAN LAGER is on draught at
H. JACKEL & CO.

LADIES!

We will cheerfully explain all about our
JITNEY PLAN
 It is a pleasing way to buy Jewelry, Watches, and Diamonds.

THE PLAUT-CADDEN CO.
 Jewelers, Established 1872.
 PLAUT-CADDEN BUILDING

BOSS LUNCH BISCUIT

A nibble that suits all tastes.
 Sold by all grocers.

Ernest E. Bullard
VIOLIN
TEACHER

All String instruments repaired.
 Violins sold on easy terms.
 For appointments address E.
 E. BULLARD, Bliss Place, Norwich, Conn.

Our Improved Bronchial
Lozenges

will relieve Hoarseness, Loss of Voice,
 Coughs and all Irritation of the Throat

10c A BOX AT

DUNN'S PHARMACY

50 Main Street

Deerfoot Sausage

PANCAKE FLOUR

MAPLE SYRUP

LA TOURAINE COFFEE

All Seasonable Good Things at

People's Market

6 Franklin Street

JUSTIN HOLDEN, Proprietor

New Styles

Fall Millinery

MRS. G. P. STANTON

52 Franklin Street

Just Try Our Goods

and you will want to come again

The Best Coffee, lb. . . 28c

A Good Coffee, lb. . . 23c

Some even cheaper, lb. 20c

Ceylon Tea, lb. . . . 35c

All other Tea, lb. . . . 25c

Baking Powder, lb. . . 14c

Peanut Butter, lb. . . 14c

UNITED TEA IMPORTERS CO.

218 Main Street

The Bulletin

Norwich, Monday, Jan. 22, 1917.

VARIOUS MATTERS

High tides will prevail today.

The moon will be new tomorrow at 2:40 A. M.

Light vehicle lamps at 5:20 o'clock this evening.

New potatoes from the south have reached market.

Saturday afternoon several skaters were on Trading Cove, which is frozen to the railroad bridge.

One of the heaviest white frosts of the season covered roofs, walks, fences and trees Sunday morning.

It was only 8 degrees at Trading Cove Sunday morning but by noon the mercury had risen to 34 degrees.

At Colchester J. N. Strong filled a carload of brick from the rubber mill yard Thursday and shipped it to Norwich.

Because flocks of snow birds have been seen of late, the weather-wise are looking for considerable snow for another year at an increased salary.

The county commissioners in New London Friday granted liquor licenses to Charles J. Ducey and Cornelius D. Twomey.

One hundred and ten persons visited the Old Library reading room last afternoon. Miss Sadie J. Dawson was in charge.

A fine collection of seeds and seed vessels has been given by a friend of the Woodstock Academy for the use of the second year science.

The senate has confirmed appointments of the Secretaries of the Connecticut Veterans to be held in G. A. R. hall, Hartford, Wednesday, Jan. 24.

Mr. and Mrs. K. W. Morse of 391 Seymour street, Hartford, have announced the marriage of their daughter, Ruth Morse, and Thomas Hoyle of Norwich.

Tomorrow afternoon, a union missionary meeting addressed by Miss Mary Riggs of Harpoor, Turkey, is to be held at the Second Congregational church parlors.

The flags on the Court house, Otis library, state armory and other public buildings were at half-staff Saturday until after the hour of the funeral of Admiral George Dewey.

Passersby think the big billboard on Thames street, where the roadway is being widened, stands on a rather weakened foundation, and might be blown over, with serious results.

An interesting feature of the annual meeting of the United Workers was the reminiscences by the only living incorporator of this successful charitable association, which was organized in January, 1878.

The cold wave has prevented the men working on the hotel foundation at Lord's Hill, but the men are digging for the cellar and carting stone. Everything is now ready for rapid work as soon as weather permits.

Metropolitan critics are praising the stonings of Otis Dewey of Norwich, eight of which are in the exhibit at Brooklyn, N. Y., Art Museum and fourteen at the Brain Galleries West 48th street, New York.

Officers of the Groton Equal Suffrage League have been notified that their league's score in the state suffrage membership campaign has been exceeded by the Groton league, which has secured 153 members since December 14.

No matter how cold the weather and water are, two New London men take their daily dip at Ocean beach. They are Joe Clark and Harry Walsh of the Hotel Mohican.

According to timepieces the plunge lasts for one and a half minutes.

The Mayors' Association of Connecticut will hold its January meeting Friday, Jan. 26, at Middletown. The late Mayor Frank J. Rice of New Haven was president of the association, and Mayor Harold M. Meach of Middletown is the present president.

In the early part of April a new vessel for transporting its employees will arrive from Maine for the Groton Ship and Engine Co. The boat, which is more than half completed, will have large staterooms and a galley.

The railroad station at Midway is being moved by a large force of men of the New Haven road and is to be located about 300 feet west. As soon as the station is moved, the present house will be removed. Three new sidings will be laid on the ground where the station stood.

Chemists have been notified of a special exhibition of its equipment at the Museum of Natural History, New York, to continue until Feb. 1. The coal tar products, which have been developed to a greater extent in the United States than in any other country, are also shown.

The Hartford Post said the other day: Town Clerk Henry F. Smith was a member of the Groton Ship and Engine Co. George S. Close of Stamford, Charles S. Holbrook of Norwich and Robert S. Palmer of Waterbury. The quartet of town clerks talked and exchanged opinions on office routine.

FUNERAL.

Mrs. Sarah E. Goldsworthy.

Many friends were in attendance at the funeral of Mrs. Sarah E. Goldsworthy, widow of Robert Goldsworthy, held at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon at her home on Lafayette street. Rev. S. H. Howe conducted the service.

Among the choice flowers were a pillow of roses and hyacinths, wreath of magnolia and white carnations, wreaths of green with violets and carnations, and of roses and carnations, and a star and a crescent of lilacs, carnations and hyacinths, cluster of carnations.

The bearers were Alfred Hunt, R. A. Kinney, Charles H. Barber, George B. Dawson, George A. Smith and John Duff. Dr. Howe read the committal service at the burial, which was in Yantic cemetery.

WEDDING.

Chappell-Manning.

William S. Chappell, prominent real estate and insurance agent of New London and Miss Ethel L. Manning, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred R. Manning of South Windham, formerly of Norwich Town were married at noon Saturday by Rev. Richard H. Clapp, of the Congregational parsonage in Battletown, Vt. The couple left at once for New York.

PERSONALS

John McNeely is at Backus hospital, suffering from a severe attack of pneumonia.

Miss Helen Farwell, who attends school in Norwich, spent Sunday at her home in Old Lyme.

William Howe has recently been brought from Colchester to Backus hospital in Norwich for treatment.

Miss Lillian Kenseper of Franklin, Mass., is visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Garner of No. 63 Lafayette street.

Mr. and Mrs. John P. Flynn of Cliff street leave this morning for New Haven where they will spend the week.

Mrs. Emily A. Jahn of the East Side has been called to Hartford by the serious illness of her only sister, Mrs. George Baldwin.

Eugene Pattison, who is employed by the International Harvester Co. of Boston, spent Sunday here with the serious illness of her only sister, Mrs. George Baldwin.

Miss Beatrice Ashe, formerly of Norwich, who has been soprano soloist at the Groton Congregational church, is expected to sing at the church on another year at an increased salary.

Rev. Henry J. Coleman of Southington, Vt. whose home is in Norwich, was one of the honorary bearers at the funeral of Frederick Ensign, formerly of Ball's Landing of Waterbury, formerly of Ball's Landing of Waterbury, formerly of Ball's Landing of Waterbury.

One hundred and ten persons visited the Old Library reading room last afternoon. Miss Sadie J. Dawson was in charge.

A fine collection of seeds and seed vessels has been given by a friend of the Woodstock Academy for the use of the second year science.

The senate has confirmed appointments of the Secretaries of the Connecticut Veterans to be held in G. A. R. hall, Hartford, Wednesday, Jan. 24.

Mr. and Mrs. K. W. Morse of 391 Seymour street, Hartford, have announced the marriage of their daughter, Ruth Morse, and Thomas Hoyle of Norwich.

Tomorrow afternoon, a union missionary meeting addressed by Miss Mary Riggs of Harpoor, Turkey, is to be held at the Second Congregational church parlors.

The flags on the Court house, Otis library, state armory and other public buildings were at half-staff Saturday until after the hour of the funeral of Admiral George Dewey.

Passersby think the big billboard on Thames street, where the roadway is being widened, stands on a rather weakened foundation, and might be blown over, with serious results.

An interesting feature of the annual meeting of the United Workers was the reminiscences by the only living incorporator of this successful charitable association, which was organized in January, 1878.

The cold wave has prevented the men working on the hotel foundation at Lord's Hill, but the men are digging for the cellar and carting stone. Everything is now ready for rapid work as soon as weather permits.

Metropolitan critics are praising the stonings of Otis Dewey of Norwich, eight of which are in the exhibit at Brooklyn, N. Y., Art Museum and fourteen at the Brain Galleries West 48th street, New York.

Officers of the Groton Equal Suffrage League have been notified that their league's score in the state suffrage membership campaign has been exceeded by the Groton league, which has secured 153 members since December 14.

No matter how cold the weather and water are, two New London men take their daily dip at Ocean beach. They are Joe Clark and Harry Walsh of the Hotel Mohican.

According to timepieces the plunge lasts for one and a half minutes.

The Mayors' Association of Connecticut will hold its January meeting Friday, Jan. 26, at Middletown. The late Mayor Frank J. Rice of New Haven was president of the association, and Mayor Harold M. Meach of Middletown is the present president.

In the early part of April a new vessel for transporting its employees will arrive from Maine for the Groton Ship and Engine Co. The boat, which is more than half completed, will have large staterooms and a galley.

The railroad station at Midway is being moved by a large force of men of the New Haven road and is to be located about 300 feet west. As soon as the station is moved, the present house will be removed. Three new sidings will be laid on the ground where the station stood.

Chemists have been notified of a special exhibition of its equipment at the Museum of Natural History, New York, to continue until Feb. 1. The coal tar products, which have been developed to a greater extent in the United States than in any other country, are also shown.

The Hartford Post said the other day: Town Clerk Henry F. Smith was a member of the Groton Ship and Engine Co. George S. Close of Stamford, Charles S. Holbrook of Norwich and Robert S. Palmer of Waterbury. The quartet of town clerks talked and exchanged opinions on office routine.

FUNERAL.

Mrs. Sarah E. Goldsworthy.

Many friends were in attendance at the funeral of Mrs. Sarah E. Goldsworthy, widow of Robert Goldsworthy, held at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon at her home on Lafayette street. Rev. S. H. Howe conducted the service.

Among the choice flowers were a pillow of roses and hyacinths, wreath of magnolia and white carnations, wreaths of green with violets and carnations, and of roses and carnations, and a star and a crescent of lilacs, carnations and hyacinths, cluster of carnations.

The bearers were Alfred Hunt, R. A. Kinney, Charles H. Barber, George B. Dawson, George A. Smith and John Duff. Dr. Howe read the committal service at the burial, which was in Yantic cemetery.

WEDDING.

Chappell-Manning.

William S. Chappell, prominent real estate and insurance agent of New London and Miss Ethel L. Manning, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred R. Manning of South Windham, formerly of Norwich Town were married at noon Saturday by Rev. Richard H. Clapp, of the Congregational parsonage in Battletown, Vt. The couple left at once for New York.

Speakers Urge American Citizenship

Timely Addresses at Mass Meeting Held Under Auspices of Young Men's Hebrew Association—Mayor Allyn L. Brown, E. J. Graham and Benjamin Everts Heard by Large Gathering.

The West Side synagogue was taxed to its seating capacity, Sunday night to hear Mayor Allyn L. Brown, Superintendent of Schools Edward J. Graham and Benjamin Everts, of Boston, immigration director of the Y. M. H. A., who all spoke along the lines of immigration and American citizenship. The meeting was held under the auspices of the Young Men's Hebrew Association.

Abraham Curland, director of the educational department of the local Y. M. H. A., presided at the meeting and introduced the first speaker, Mayor Allyn L. Brown, who extended his own greeting as well as the greetings of the city to the speakers. He emphasized citizenship and spoke of the wonderful progress this country has made in its development. He said that the government is a government of the people, by the people, and for the people. He said that the government is a government of the people, by the people, and for the people.

Superintendent Graham next introduced Edward J. Graham, who spoke of the importance of citizenship. He said that the government is a government of the people, by the people, and for the people. He said that the government is a government of the people, by the people, and for the people. He said that the government is a government of the people, by the people, and for the people.

Mayor Brown urged all to become citizens and after becoming citizens not only to think of public questions but to vote when they have the opportunity. He said that the government is a government of the people, by the people, and for the people. He said that the government is a government of the people, by the people, and for the people. He said that the government is a government of the people, by the people, and for the people.

Superintendent Graham next introduced Edward J. Graham, who spoke of the importance of citizenship. He said that the government is a government of the people, by the people, and for the people. He said that the government is a government of the people, by the people, and for the people. He said that the government is a government of the people, by the people, and for the people.

Superintendent Graham next introduced Edward J. Graham, who spoke of the importance of citizenship. He said that the government is a government of the people, by the people, and for the people. He said that the government is a government of the people, by the people, and for the people. He said that the government is a government of the people, by the people, and for the people.

Superintendent Graham next introduced Edward J. Graham, who spoke of the importance of citizenship. He said that the government is a government of the people, by the people, and for the people. He said that the government is a government of the people, by the people, and for the people. He said that the government is a government of the people, by the people, and for the people.

Superintendent Graham next introduced Edward J. Graham, who spoke of the importance of citizenship. He said that the government is a government of the people, by the people, and for the people. He said that the government is a government of the people, by the people, and for the people. He said that the government is a government of the people, by the people, and for the people.

Superintendent Graham next introduced Edward J. Graham, who spoke of the importance of citizenship. He said that the government is a government of the people, by the people, and for the people. He said that the government is a government of the people, by the people, and for the people. He said that the government is a government of the people, by the people, and for the people.

Superintendent Graham next introduced Edward J. Graham, who spoke of the importance of citizenship. He said that the government is a government of the people, by the people, and for the people. He said that the government is a government of the people, by the people, and for the people. He said that the government is a government of the people, by the people, and for the people.

SERVICE IS NEW NOTE IN RELIGION

Central Baptist Pastor Says Saved to Serve Should Be Our Slogan.

The New Note in Religion was the topic of the Sunday morning sermon delivered by Rev. Joel B. Slocum, D. D., at the Central Baptist church. The text was Luke 22:27, "I am among you as He that Serves." Rev. Dr. Slocum spoke in part as follows:

The new note in religion is indicated by a new word that twenty-five years ago came into our Christian vocabulary as though it had just been born. That word was "service." The word itself was not new a quarter of a century ago, but it gained a new notoriety because it put itself at the head of a new movement.

This movement has been going on with increasing momentum during these last two decades. The nature of this new emphasis is best indicated by taking notice of some new phrases that have come to pass in the thinking of people.

We no longer think of man's conception of Him has changed in recent years. We no longer think of Him as remote, isolated and executive, but as immanence, as God who is with us, as God who is God of justice and of a God of powers, and a great King His omnipotence. He is also immanence in love and mercy and compassion. It looks very much as though the world had been getting acquainted with God and that instead of finding Him stern and vindictive and unapproachable in the splendor of His righteousness, they have found Him who is God of justice and of a God of powers, and a great King His omnipotence. He is also immanence in love and mercy and compassion. It looks very much as though the world had been getting acquainted with God and that instead of finding Him stern and vindictive and unapproachable in the splendor of His righteousness, they have found Him who is God of justice and of a God of powers, and a great King His omnipotence. He is also immanence in love and mercy and compassion. It looks very much as though the world had been getting acquainted with God and that instead of finding Him stern and vindictive and unapproachable in the splendor of His righteousness, they have found Him who is God of justice and of a God of powers, and a great King His omnipotence. He is also immanence in love and mercy and compassion. It looks very much as though the world had been getting acquainted with God and that instead of finding Him stern and vindictive and unapproachable in the splendor of His righteousness, they have found Him who is God of justice and of a God of powers, and a great King His omnipotence. He is also immanence in love and mercy and compassion. It looks very much as though the world had been getting acquainted with God and that instead of finding Him stern and vindictive and unapproachable in the splendor of His righteousness, they have found Him who is God of justice and of a God of powers, and a great King His omnipotence. He is also immanence in love and mercy and compassion. It looks very much as though the world had been getting acquainted with God and that instead of finding Him stern and vindictive and unapproachable in the splendor of His righteousness, they have found Him who is God of justice and of a God of powers, and a great King His omnipotence. He is also immanence in love and mercy and compassion. It looks very much as though the world had been getting acquainted with God and that instead of finding Him stern and vindictive and unapproachable in the splendor of His righteousness, they have found Him who is God of justice and of a God of powers, and a great King His omnipotence. He is also immanence in love and mercy and compassion. It looks very much as though the world had been getting acquainted with God and that instead of finding Him stern and vindictive and unapproachable in the splendor of His righteousness, they have found Him who is God of justice and of a God of powers, and a great King His omnipotence. He is also immanence in love and mercy and compassion. It looks very much as though the world had been getting acquainted with God and that instead of finding Him stern and vindictive and unapproachable in the splendor of His righteousness, they have found Him who is God of justice and of a God of powers, and a great King His omnipotence. He is also immanence in love and mercy and compassion. It looks very much as though the world had been getting acquainted with God and that instead of finding Him stern and vindictive and unapproachable in the splendor of His righteousness, they have found Him who is God of justice and of a God of powers, and a great King His omnipotence. He is also immanence in love and mercy and compassion. It looks very much as though the world had been getting acquainted with God and that instead of finding Him stern and vindictive and unapproachable in the splendor of His righteousness, they have found Him who is God of justice and of a God of powers, and a great King His omnipotence. He is also immanence in love and mercy and compassion. It looks very much as though the world had been getting acquainted with God and that instead of finding Him stern and vindictive and unapproachable in the splendor of His righteousness, they have found Him who is God of justice and of a God of powers, and a great King His omnipotence. He is also immanence in love and mercy and compassion. It looks very much as though the world had been getting acquainted with God and that instead of finding Him stern and vindictive and unapproachable in the splendor of His righteousness, they have found Him who is God of justice and of a God of powers, and a great King His omnipotence. He is also immanence in love and mercy and compassion. It looks very much as though the world had been getting acquainted with God and that instead of finding Him stern and vindictive and unapproachable in the splendor of His righteousness, they have found Him who is God of justice and of a God of powers, and a great King His omnipotence. He is also immanence in love and mercy and compassion. It looks very much as though the world had been getting acquainted with God and that instead of finding Him stern and vindictive and unapproachable in the splendor of His righteousness, they have found Him who is God of justice and of a God of powers, and a great King His omnipotence. He is also immanence in love and mercy and compassion. It looks very much as though the world had been getting acquainted with God and that instead of finding Him stern and vindictive and unapproachable in the splendor of His righteousness, they have found Him who is God of justice and of a God of powers, and a great King His omnipotence. He is also immanence in love and mercy and compassion. It looks very much as though the world had been getting acquainted with God and that instead of finding Him stern and vindictive and unapproachable in the splendor of His righteousness, they have found Him who is God of justice and of a God of powers, and a great King His omnipotence. He is also immanence in love and mercy and compassion. It looks very much as though the world had been getting acquainted with God and that instead of finding Him stern and vindictive and unapproachable in the splendor of His righteousness, they have found Him who is God of justice and of a God of powers, and a great King His omnipotence. He is also immanence in love and mercy and compassion. It looks very much as though the world had been getting acquainted with God and that instead of finding Him stern and vindictive and unapproachable in the splendor of His righteousness, they have found Him who is God of justice and of a God of powers, and a great King His omnipotence. He is also immanence in love and mercy and compassion. It looks very much as though the world had been getting acquainted with God and that instead of finding Him stern and vindictive and unapproachable in the splendor of His righteousness, they have found Him who is God of justice and of a God of powers, and a great King His omnipotence. He is also immanence in love and mercy and compassion. It looks very much as though the world had been getting acquainted with God and that instead of finding Him stern and vindictive and unapproachable in the splendor of His righteousness, they have found Him who is God of justice and of a God of powers, and a great King His omnipotence. He is also immanence in love and mercy and compassion. It looks very much as though the world had been getting acquainted with God and that instead of finding Him stern and vindictive and unapproachable in the splendor of His righteousness, they have found Him who is God of justice and of a God of powers, and a great King His omnipotence. He is also immanence in love and mercy and compassion. It looks very much as though the world had been getting acquainted with God and that instead of finding Him stern and vindictive and unapproachable in the splendor of His righteousness, they have found Him who is God of justice and of a God of powers, and a great King His omnipotence. He is also immanence in love and mercy and compassion. It looks very much as though the world had been getting acquainted with God and that instead of finding Him stern and vindictive and unapproachable in the splendor of His righteousness, they have found Him who is God of justice and of a God of powers, and a great King His omnipotence. He is also immanence in love and mercy and compassion. It looks very much as though the world had been getting acquainted with God and that instead of finding Him stern and vindictive and unapproachable in the splendor of His righteousness, they have found Him who is God of justice and of a God of powers, and a great King His omnipotence. He is also immanence in love and mercy and compassion. It looks very much as though the world had been getting acquainted with God and that instead of finding Him stern and vindictive and unapproachable in the splendor of His righteousness, they have found Him who is God of justice and of a God of powers, and a great King His omnipotence. He is also immanence in love and mercy and compassion. It looks very much as though the world had been getting acquainted with God and that instead of finding Him stern and vindictive and unapproachable in the splendor of His righteousness, they have found Him who is God of justice and of a God of powers, and a great King His omnipotence. He is also immanence in love and mercy and compassion. It looks very much as though the world had been getting acquainted with God and that instead of finding Him stern and vindictive and unapproachable in the splendor of His righteousness, they have found Him who is God of justice and of a God of powers, and a great King His omnipotence. He is also immanence in love and mercy and compassion. It looks very much as though the world had been getting acquainted with God and that instead of finding Him stern and vindictive and unapproachable in the splendor of His righteousness, they have found Him who is God of justice and of a God of powers, and a great King His omnipotence. He is also immanence in love and mercy and compassion. It looks very much as though the world had been getting acquainted with God and that instead of finding Him stern and vindictive and unapproachable in the splendor of His righteousness, they have found Him who is God of justice and of a God of powers, and a great King His omnipotence. He is also immanence in love and mercy and compassion. It looks very much as though the world had been getting acquainted with God and that instead of finding Him stern and vindictive and unapproachable in the splendor of His righteousness, they have found Him who is God of justice and of a God of powers, and a great King His omnipotence. He is also immanence in love and mercy and compassion. It looks very much as though the world had been getting acquainted with God and that instead of finding Him stern and vindictive and unapproachable in the splendor of His righteousness, they have found Him who is God of justice and of a God of powers, and a great King His omnipotence. He is also immanence in love and mercy and compassion. It looks very much as though the world had been getting acquainted with God and that instead of finding Him stern and vindictive and unapproachable in the splendor of His righteousness, they have found Him who is God of justice and of a God of powers, and a great King His omnipotence. He is also immanence in love and mercy and compassion. It looks very much as though the world had been getting acquainted with God and that instead of finding Him stern and vindictive and unapproachable in the splendor of His righteousness, they have found Him who is God of justice and of a God of powers, and a great King His omnipotence. He is also immanence in love and mercy and compassion. It looks very much as though the world had been getting acquainted with God and that instead of finding Him stern and vindictive and unapproachable in the splendor of His righteousness, they have found Him who is God of justice and of a God of powers, and a great King His omnipotence. He is also immanence in love and mercy and compassion. It looks very much as though the world had been getting acquainted with God and that instead of finding Him stern and vindictive and unapproachable in the splendor of His righteousness, they have found Him who is God of justice and of a God of powers, and a great King His omnipotence. He is also immanence in love and mercy and compassion. It looks very much as though the world had been getting acquainted with God and that instead of finding Him stern and vindictive and unapproachable in the splendor of His righteousness, they have found Him who is God of justice and of a God of powers, and a great King His omnipotence. He is also immanence in love and mercy and compassion. It looks very much as though the world had been getting acquainted with God and that instead of finding Him stern and vindictive and unapproachable in the splendor of His righteousness, they have found Him who is God of justice and of a God of powers, and a great King His omnipotence. He is also immanence in love and mercy and compassion. It looks very much as though the world had been getting acquainted with God and that instead of finding Him stern and vindictive and unapproachable in the splendor of His righteousness, they have found Him who is God of justice and of a God of powers, and a great King His omnipotence. He is also immanence in love and mercy and compassion. It looks very much as though the world had been getting acquainted with God and that instead of finding Him stern and vindictive and unapproachable in the splendor of His righteousness, they have found Him who is God of justice and of a God of powers, and a great King His omnipotence. He is also immanence in love and mercy and compassion. It looks very much as though the world had been getting acquainted with God and that instead of finding Him stern and vindictive and unapproachable in the splendor of His righteousness, they have found Him who is God of justice and of a God of powers, and a great King His omnipotence. He is also immanence in love and mercy and compassion. It looks very much as though the world had been getting acquainted with God and that instead of finding Him stern and vindictive and unapproachable in the splendor of His